

Lilah J. Crowe

Lilah has been the executive director of the Itasca County Historical Society for the past 19 years. The mission of the historical society is to connect people to the history of Itasca County. Within that mission she has been able to document the ethnic historic changes that have occurred throughout its 125 years. Lilah will present a program about an historic log barn, log church, homes, and estates where some still exist today.